

CAD Configurator for Sales and Production

entegra Inventor/Vault Configurator

With the entegra Inventor/Vault configurator, Inventor designs can be created without any CAD knowledge. It is operated using the independent Windows input dialog or an export from your ERP system. A web browser dialogue and a parameter export from Revit are also in the works.

The result

- Sales documents
Quote drawings, 3D models. etc.
- Production documents
Technical drawings, sheet metal flat patterns, 3D models, bills of materials, etc.
- A wide variety of 2D/3D file formats
e.g., PDF, DXF, DWG, STEP, NWD, etc.

The advantages of our solution

If you compare our CAD configurator solution with an Inventor-independent configurator, you will find plenty of advantages – you can find some of them below:

- Inventor design knowledge suffices
- No additional knowledge about the configuration product is required
- You can use existing Inventor models
- CAD clients who already conduct parametric modelling can quickly implement the solution based on their existing models
- Configuration logic is stored in the Inventor model
- No rule maintenance is required outside of Inventor

- Article alignment with the ERP system is possible
- Bill of materials transfer to the ERP system is possible
- Use of configuration knowledge stored in the ERP system is possible
- Multilingual reproduction is possible
- The product data is managed in Vault
- Automatic creation of projects (sales, production) in Vault is possible
- Automatic approvals are possible in Vault
- The configurator is a standard product that is continuously developed and adapted to new versions as part of the software maintenance
- Tailored implementation is carried out via configuration and not programming – no customizing

Your benefits

- In addition to the obvious time savings, users benefit from a decrease in quality-related costs owing to a reliable automatic process
- Relieves the design team
- Relieves the sales team
- Optimization of quote documents
- Acceleration of quote creation
- Improved technical clarifications with clients

What our solution does not cover

- Text quote creation with prices
- Dynamic online visualization during configuration
